

Find a career in:

Food and fibre

The food and fibre sector is growing fast!

To support this growth, Aotearoa needs more skilled workers with a range of interests, skills, experience, and backgrounds.

Agritech

With agritech transforming the sector, there's never been a more exciting time to start a career in food and fibre. Technology helps farmers and growers work more productively and sustainably.

New technology means new opportunities, and our industries need tech-smart employees to operate and maintain new technologies, such as:

Drones

Robotics

Automation

Careers in the Dairy industry

New Zealand's Dairy industry offers a wide range of career opportunities, from hands-on work with animals, to cutting-edge technology and management positions.

Scholarship opportunities

Looking for a scholarship to grow your career in food and fibre? There are heaps of scholarship opportunities available for students across Aotearoa.

Get started in work or training

Keen to get stuck into some hands-on work or training? There are food and fibre sector opportunities all over the country right now.

From farm to sea and everything in between, there's opportunities for immediate work, seasonal jobs, and training and taster courses to get you started.

